

Print them yourself T-Shirts

It's not quite do-it-yourself - Janet Gabites has come up with six designs using our logo. Since there was no consensus, the board has decided that we'll make the designs available, and you may select what you want, take any shirt of your own to a printer and have a shirt made. You may do one side or both and the designs can be sized to whatever you want.

This is digital printing, which requires that the shirt be white or a light colour. For about three times the cost, you may use the designs to have a white lettering on a black shirt. In that case, the shirt could be provided by our printer, or you could bring your own dark shirt, but the cost would be around $35 for one side.

Our printer is InPrint Graphics & Copies, which has two Vancouver locations:

1935 West Broadway 604-992-2322

412 West 8th Avenue same phone number

The person who knows about our shirts is the owner, Dave.

The price I was given for the digital printing is $10 for a single side; $12 for both sides. You supply the shirt. For printing on other articles, you're on your own for negotiating a price.

The designs are available on the internet, so you may use any printer you'd like and try to negotiate a similar price.

The designs are at

<http://www.vcn.bc.ca/scandi/ScanDancersDesigns/>

This is not a formatted webpage, just a directory. In that directory is a file called

ScanDancersDesigns-OnePage.pdf

The direct link is

<http://www.vcn.bc.ca/scandi/ScanDancersDesigns/ScanDancerDesigns-OnePage.pdf>

This file shows the six designs on one page, with the file names.

If you go to Dave at InPrint, you can print the page, write your specifications on there (which design, where it goes, what size) and take that in with your shirt. Dave has the files, so that should be all that's required. If you pre-pay, you might be able to get Janet or me to pick up your shirt on a Wednesday before dancing. It generally takes two or three days to get it done.