The program consists of individual presentations and facilitated workshop discussions. PMPs can claim seven PDUs towards recertification.

The line up for the day includes these presenters and facilitators, plus intense involvement by the participants.

Garry Graham, PMP, "Leaders, Teams and Projects: It's Personal"
 The issues and problems linked to effective project leadership and team functioning. Participate in generating ideas and solutions.

John Eastman, P. Eng., President and Project Director for The Millennium Line, "Rapid Transit System Project Management" PM systems and practices on the SkyTrain expansion. The value of good project management from the viewpoint of 22 years on major rapid transit projects.

Bruce Douglas, PMP, P.Eng., "Burrard G2 Turbine Failure and Repair". Repairing a disastrous failure in a critical generating unit under intense time pressure at BC Hydro.

Lucy Guest, PMP, "Implementing a PMO in a Functional, Non-Projectized Organization" Lucy Guest describes the impact of corporate culture from the viewpoint of her role as Manager, Projects at BC Rail. Lucy will engage the participants in predicting the cultural factors at play in this case history, and in recommending a strategy for implementing a PMO.

Padraig Cherry, PMP, and Associates from TELUS Client Solutions - "Lessons Learned in the Evolution of Project Management Within a National Organization"

The presentation will be illustrated with experiences from large-scale information systems projects.

Bena Luxton, PMP and Darlene Hope-Ross, PMP lead a workshop discussion of things that have worked - and practices that have not worked - on large scale projects both on information systems and on facilities construction.

And More!!

The seminar emphasises the lessons on good management practice that are transferable among project technologies: whether they be IS, construction, new products, or business process change. Practitioners from all project disciplines praise the cross-functional interaction and learning at the seminars.

Additional workshop and discussion facilitators are being actively recruited.

Peter Leekha, PMP, the Project Manager for the event, can be contacted for more information on participation opportunities and on the program for the day at pleekha@sandwell.com .

ABOUT THE SOCIETY - WEBSITE ADDRESS

The Society of PM Professionals is a voluntary, democratic organization of PMP@s in the Greater Vancouver area, who are dedicated to the achievement of their common purposes in the profession through mutual support, co-operation, and collective effort.

The Society holds at least three Professional Development Seminars in Vancouver each year.

The Professional Development Seminars feature technical presentations and workshop facilitation by PMP@s for the purpose of continuing professional development. The seminar is intended for PMP(r)s. However, the Society welcomes guests who are committed to the advancement of the Profession. Practitioners who plan to become certified as PMP@s are welcome in particular.
